This year's 24th edition of the BLACK BOOK finds me covering 10 new BETCHA DIDN'T KNOW Super System articles, all wrapped around the work of my favorite artists, singers, songwriters and performers spanning the past 50 years. It's a combination of what I love best – music and handicapping football games. This year's artist-in-residence is the legendary Bob Seger.

The 2024 PLAYBOOK BLACK BOOK INSIDER'S GUIDE starts with these 10 Super System articles. Each treatise unveils never-before-known winning systems and angles in the world of college and pro football. On the College Football front, in this year's edition we learn a pair of ways to take down road favorites, the best time to back an underdog in a revenge situation, and whether you should consider backing a new head coach in his first game. On the NFL front we learn the best opportunity to play on a winless team, a strong division home revenge angle, and how to profit off the prime-time Sunday Night Football game.

Next, we move to NFL and College Football reference data. Trend lovers will find new MRT (Most Recent Trend) information on every team in a game-by-game format. Each weekly team trend (where applicable) is listed as ATS (Against The Spread), SU (Straight Up) or O/U (Over/Under the total). In addition, we feature 100% Perfect ATS Team Trend reports on every College and NFL team. Statisticians will love our Team Situational Charts, covering ATS results on every team in Home, Away, Favorite, and Dog categories since 2000 (all ties have been omitted). It's a quick-read data chart you'll want to keep at your fingertips throughout the season. In addition, we have listed the website addresses for every College and NFL squad.

Finally, we close out with an exclusive NFL COACHES LEAGUE chart, listing current NFL coaches and their ATS records with their current teams. Study it closely, as teams often adopt both a coach's personality and style when it comes to performance on the playing field. (FYI: for a listing of the COLLEGE COACHES LEAGUE, be sure to visit our website at www.PlaybookSports.com). We close things out with a listing of 2024's projected NFL starting quarterbacks.

Remember, the key to winning is by putting as many edges in your favor as possible – and we hope this book adds to the success of your quest. As always, I welcome any suggestions or comments you may have. You can log on to www.PlaybookSports.com and e-mail me at marc@playbooksports.com, or send me a tweet @MarcLawrence.

Thanks once again for your support and good luck...

SHAKEDOWN

*"Shakedown,
breakdown, takedown
Everybody wants into the crowded light
Breakdown, takedown
You're busted
Let down your guard,
honey
Just about the time you figured it's alright
Breakdown, take down
You're busted
(Oh, oh, uh)"*

In one sentence, 'Shakedown' is about the relentless pursuit and inevitable downfall of someone who thinks they can escape the consequences in a competitive, high-stakes environment.

Glenn Frey, who had a #2 hit with "The Heat Is On" from the original Beverly Hills Cop, was slated to record this song, which had different lyrics at the time. However, a week before it was to be recorded, he had to drop out with laryngitis, so Bob Seger was asked to replace him.

However, Seger didn't like the lyrics, and though he retained the same chorus, he rewrote the verses – which also gave him composer credit – read: royalty rights on the song.

Seger recalls, "There were a lot of lyrics about working undercover. I didn't like them, so I threw them all out. I decided to write it my way, and they trusted my judgment."

'Shakedown' is also the title of an old '60s song that explores themes of heartache, betrayal, and the quest for solace in the small hours of the night. Let's examine what makes this song resonate with so many college football fans.

On the college football playing field, this song isn't just about running or hiding; it's about confronting reality head-on, especially when being forced to make a dramatic role change. Watch what happens when we...

BET AGAINST any college football favorite coming off three consecutive underdog wins in a row.

We do so because this upside-down, shakedown role change of going to a favorite after enjoying success as an underdog becomes too much to bear, as these teams have gone 15-24-1 ATS the past 16 seasons.

Worse, they suffer massive meltdowns against hungry foes who won 6 or fewer games the previous season, dipping to 6-18-1 ATS.

Our well-oiled machine seals the deal with a perfect subset of 0-14 ATS, including 0-2 ATS last season when Arizona and Coastal Carolina each lost the money to Colorado and Army, respectively.

You can read all about it inside the BETTING TOOLS section at PlaybookSports.com by clicking on the Black Book link.

Now, when you find a game that looks too good to be true, remember there is likely a shakedown of sorts involved. I can hear the music playing...

“It's okay you want to shine
But once you step across that line
No Matter where you hide
I'm comin' after you”

RAMBLIN' GAMBLIN' MAN

Bob Seger, the legendary rock musician from Michigan, has penned some of the most iconic songs in rock-n-roll history. One of his early hits, "Ramblin' Gamblin' Man," holds a special place in the hearts of his fans – and count me in that fan club.

Released in 1989 as the title track of his debut album, it initially flew under the radar. However, over time, it gained a cult following and earned its status as a classic.

The lyrics narrate the life of a man with an insatiable appetite for gambling life. Always on the move and hunting for the next big win, he's often free-spirited and adventurous but equally flawed and reckless, constantly seeking action and using gambling as an escape hatch from his troubles.

In his youth, Seger frequented the racetracks and learned to play craps, all while working at a record shop popular with bookies and gamblers. This song mirrors the gambling subculture he observed firsthand.

A classic pitfall for the "Ramblin' Gamblin' Man"? Betting on a team riding a hot streak, especially those in the clutch of an undefeated season—a surefire way to become a "square."

To avoid becoming a square peg in a round hole, here's a pro tip:

BET AGAINST any 9-0 or greater college football road pick or favorite from Game Ten out if they are facing an opponent that allows 20.5 or fewer points per game.

That's because these 9-0 or greater road teams who are not taking points from an opponent who surrenders 20.5 points per game are 17-32-1 ATS since 1990, including 7-24 ATS when facing a foe that won 8 or fewer games the previous season – or opponents who are not popular public teams.

If that same foe sports a .700 or greater win percentage this season, they practically fall to the knees, going 3-18-1 ATS.

And if that's not enough, you can learn the 0-11 ATS perfect subset to this super system when you go to the BETTING TOOLS section at PlaybookSports.com.

With that, if you find yourself to be a 'ramblin' gamblin' man" I strongly suggest you adhere to the words of an iconic rock star who saw the light when he sang...

“Yeah, alright here we go now now
I'm out of money,
cause you know I need some
I ain't around to love you now, and I gotta run
Gotta keep moving,
never gonna slow down
You can have your funky world,
see you 'round

But I got to ramble (ramblin' man)
Oh I got to gamble (gamblin' man)
Got to got to ramble (ramblin' man)
I was born a ramblin' gamblin' man”

“Yeah, I'm gonna tell my tale come on,
Come on, give a listen
Cause I was born lonely down by the riverside Learned to spin fortune wheels, and throw dice”

TURN THE PAGE

*"Here I am
On the road again
There I am
Up on the stage
Here I go
Playin' star again
There I go
Turn the Page"*

We're talking Bob Seger in this year's version of the Black Book, and with it, how can we not address his No. 2 top-selling song, 'Turn the Page'?

In the realm of timeless rock ballads, this song, with its haunting tune and its compelling lyrics and melodies holds a special place in the hearts of music enthusiasts. At its core, 'Turn the Page' explores the life of a traveling musician and the longing for a sense of belonging.

That's what life can be like on the college football gridiron, too. Especially for teams stocked with 17 or more returning starters from the previous season when they find themselves in underdog roles performing in a stadium away from home. And especially those with 17 starters returning for a second consecutive season.

In this role, put them up against foes with a losing record and watch them 'Turn the Page' with this winning recipe...

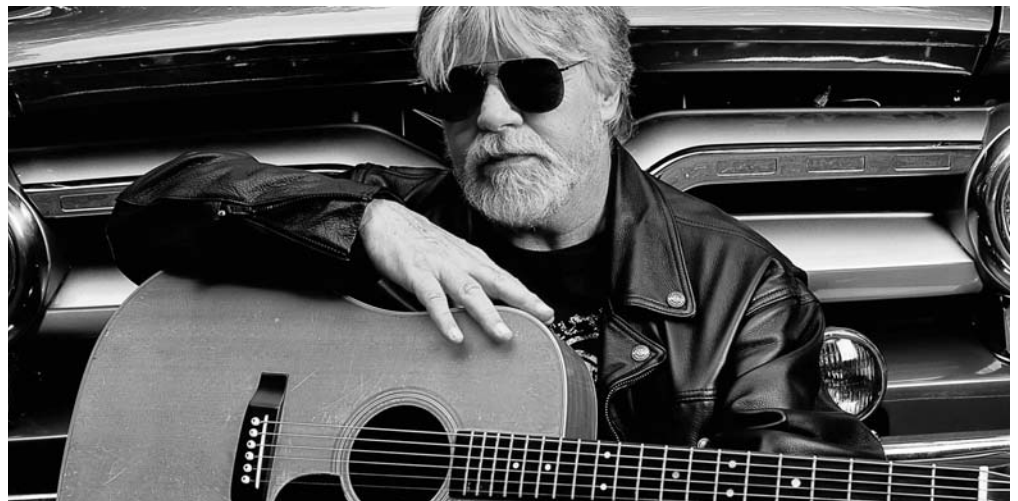

BET ON any college football road dog with 17 or more returning starters for the second consecutive season if they are seeking revenge against a conference opponent.

That sets the stage for a profitable 130-89-5 ATS winning record, or a 59.3 win percentage, which improves to 64-34 ATS when the foe is coming off a loss, including 27-7-1 ATS if the loss occurred as a favorite and our angrier-than-hell-dog-allows fewer than 33 points per game.

Taking it a step further, these same angry dogs are 14-1-1 ATS when facing foes with a winning record. To find the 14-0 ATS perfect subset, make sure you visit PlaybookSports.com and click on the Betting Tools section to find it inside the Black Book link.

So, the next time you find yourself being swept away by the emotive tunes of 'Tune the Page', take a moment to appreciate the depth and meaning that lies within the song's lyrics. And maybe, just maybe, remember the college football teams ready to 'Turn the Page' on their competition this season.

YOU'LL ACCOMP'NY ME

How can you venture into the unknown with the risk of humiliation without a sense of resolve and risk, the smoldering belief that you can be with the person your heart so desperately wants? This feeling is perhaps expressed no better in folk-rock music than in the meaning behind the lyrics of Bob Seger's lively single, "You'll Accomp'ny Me," from his 1980 record, Against the Wind – Seger's 11th studio LP and his fourth with the Silver Bullet Band. That album, which Seger released in February of the then-new decade, was his only No. 1 album. It spent six weeks at the top of the Billboard charts, removing Pink Floyd's The Wall from atop the ranks. The message of desire is delivered with no pomp and circumstance. Someday, baby, you'll accompany me.

It's what happens when desire in the world of college football helps motivate a team. And nothing comes to the surface better than a new coach in his first season with a team that won 10 or more games the previous season.

The Well-Oiled Machine concludes that if one was savvy enough to...

BET ON any FBS college football team with a new coach in Game One of the season if they won 10 or more games last season.

You would have gone 24-5 SU and 20-9 ATS, including 16-5 ATS when playing at home.

By the same token, these excited hosts have gone 9-0 SUATS in this very same role since 2000.

To find out who the qualifying teams are this season, go to the BETTING TOOLS section at PlaybookSports.com.

And speaking of Lady Luck, you would serve yourself well knowing she is vitally important throughout the course of the season, as Bob Seger confirmed when he told us...

Few songs capture the essence of nervous, fumbling teenage romances quite like Bob Seger's "Night Moves," his second best-selling song of all time. This track catapulted Seger from a local Michigan phenomenon to a national rock 'n' roll icon. It took him six months to write, but given its timeless appeal, the effort was clearly worth it. Sometimes, greatness takes a little longer—like waiting for your high school crush to notice you.

Seger was inspired to write the song after watching "American Graffiti," a film following teens as they explore newfound sexual freedom. "I came out of the theater thinking, 'Hey, I've got a story to tell too,'" Seger said. And tell it he did, with all the angst and awkwardness of a teenage diary entry.

The lyrics narrate a young couple losing their virginity together, a story plucked straight from Seger's own life. As legend has it, Seger found himself in the backseat of a '60s Chevy with a girl whose boyfriend was in the military. When the boyfriend returned, the girl married him, leaving Seger heartbroken. Ah, young love! Nothing says "teenage heartbreak" quite like losing your girl to a guy in uniform.

The song peaked at No. 4 on the Billboard Hot 100 charts, and the album sold over six million copies. For winless NFL teams looking to lose their own kind of virginity, perhaps there is no better opportunity than under the Monday Night lights. It's where winless teams come alive, like awkward teens on prom night. Here's the winning play:

BET ON any winless NFL team from Game Two onward on Monday Night Football if they won 9 or more games the previous season.

This gem doesn't come around often, but when it does, it scores big, going 21-11 ATS since 1990. Better yet, put them at home, and they find the end zone with gusto, going 15-6 ATS, including 4-0 SUATS since 2018.

And for the pièce de résistance, you can put on all the right moves with a 100% ATS subset inside this super system by visiting the BLACK BOOK link in the BETTING TOOLS section at PlaybookSports.com.

So as Detroit's Rock and Roll hero Bob Seger would say...

*“ I awoke last night to the sound of thunder
How far off I sat and wondered Ain't it funny how the night moves
When you just don't seem to have as much to lose Strange how the night moves ”*

DOWN ON MAINSTREET

In a descent of Down on Mainstreet, "Mainstreet" comes to a close along with those bittersweet memories of youth. "What do they tell you about writing?" Seger said in the interview. "They say you have to write about what you know." And as are most of Bob Seger's hit records, this soft rock hit is semi-autobiographical.

The enduring popularity of Mainstreet showcases the universal appeal of Bob Seger's musical storytelling. The song serves as a time capsule, allowing listeners to step into the shoes of the narrator and experience their emotions firsthand.

Seger's tale of being a young teenager hanging around the corner of Main Street and desire.

It's the same for NFL teams standing at the intersection of Playoffs Ahead and Division Finales – and it goes like this...

BET ON any NFL home team in its season-ending division game if they are seeking revenge and also coming off a SUATS loss.

Simply put, teams in this winning scenario are 66-48-3 ATS overall since 1980, including a scorching-hot 28-8-1 ATS when coming off a loss as a favorite in its last game.

Drilling down, these same division hosts playing with revenge in the final game of the season zoom to 20-3-1 ATS when facing sub .700 foes in this role.

If you're curious about the parameters surrounding this super-system that has gone 16-0-1 ATS, you need to check it online now inside the BETTING TOOLS section at PlaybookSports.com by clicking on the Black Book link.

So, the next time you find yourself seeking a musical retreat to another time, put on Mainstreet by Bob Seger and allow yourself to be carried away by its enchanting melodies and heartfelt lyrics.

“ Well I'd stand outside

AGAINST THE WIND

Overall, the song's meaning is about getting older. It's about pushing on in life and maturing through love, exploration, heartbreak, and betrayal. The title and the repeated phrase "against the wind," in particular, signal the passing of time. The catchphrase itself came from Bob Seger's days of running track and cross country in high school when he would literally "run against the wind."

The song of the same name was one of his most popular tunes, a No. 3 best-seller, for good reason too. It's an unoffensive, almost hypnotic mid-tempo ballad with lyricism that inspired the next generation of singer/songwriters. In fact, the Eagles' Glenn Frey also provided backing vocals for the song. Seger and Frey met while working in the Detroit music scene, where they both grew up.

The title of the song is also a perfect metaphor for struggling NFL teams that have slogged their way through mediocrity. But being value seekers that we are, it also becomes a profit-making situation if we...

BET ON any NFL home team from Game 14 onward with a .250 or fewer win percentage if they won four or fewer games last season.

And why not, as these face-in-the-wind teams are 45-25 ATS in this role since 1983, including 39-22 ATS.

Better yet, bring them in off a loss of 4 or more points, and they ratchet up to 23-9 ATS. Pair these very same teams coming off a loss of 4 or more points against a foe checking in off an ATS win, and they zoom to 13-1 ATS.

To find the perfect 13-0 ATS anecdote, check the BLACK BOOK link contained inside the BETTING TOOLS section at PlaybookSports.com.

With that, we'll close out with what looks to be the perfect reminder from Seger's Silver Bullet Band...

“Against the wind

I'm still runnin' against the wind

Well I'm older now and still

Against the wind

It seems like yesterday

But it was long ago

And the secrets that we shared

The mountains that we moved

Caught like a wildfire out of control

Till there was nothing left to burn and nothing left to prove

Against the wind; baby, we're running against the wind”

*“Against the wind
We were runnin'
against the wind
We were young and strong, we were runnin'
Against the wind”*

LIKE A ROCK

It was back in 1986 that Bob Seger struck a chord when he released, 'Like a Rock', in what would prove to be his No. 8 all-time best-seller. He went on to explain, "It was written at the end of a relationship that lasted more than a decade and had the singer reflecting on the passage of time and fleeting youth." 'Like a Rock' was inspired partly by the end of a relationship he had that had lasted for 11 years.

"You wonder where all that time went. But beyond that, it expresses my feeling that the best years of your life are in your late teens when you have no special commitments and no career. It's your last blast of fun before heading into the cruel world."

In a 2014 interview on CBS Mornings. As alluded to in the 'Night Moves' article on these pages, Seger shared that he was a long-distance runner on the track team in high school that he attributes as the source of his "tenacity" and "discipline." He captures that spirit through the lyrics told through the eyes of his 18-year-old self, who wasn't easily rattled and stood up for what he believed in.

In truth, it's what happens after these major setbacks that matter.

For instance, take an NFL team that has performed 'like a rock' out of the gate, one that opened the season with six wins in a row. How will they react when troubled times are knocking at the door? This much we know for sure – if you were to...

BET ON any NFL team who started the season 6-0 or better, and lost its first game three games ago.

This odd equation works 'like a rock' for teams in this role as these never-say-die teams have gone 33-17 SU and 33-16-1 ATS since 1985 in their third game after suffering their initial loss of the season.

Better yet, if the loss was by 4 or more points, as Seger might say, it works "like a rock," as they have gone 18-3 SUATS when tackling a foe coming off a SUATS loss.

And wouldn't you know it, there is a 16-0 ATS subset inside this beauty and you can see it now when you visit the BLACK BOOK link in the BETTING TOOLS section at PlaybookSports.com.

With that, we close things out with this final thought...

*Of all these hustlers and their schemes
I stood proud, I stood tall
High above it all
I still believed in my dreams
Like a rock ,*

*"Stood there boldly
Sweatin' in the sun

Like a rock
Like a rock, I was strong as I could be Like a rock, nothin' ever got to me
Like a rock, I was something to see
Like a rock"*

WE'VE GOT TONITE

Sometimes, things are just as simple as that. The song was inspired by a scene from the Robert Redford-Paul Newman classic film "The Sting," where Redford was attempting a late-night seduction of a waitress.

Like two ships passing in the night, bumping into one another, who say, 'I'm tired. It's late. I know you don't really dig me, and I don't really dig you, but this is all we've got, so let's do it.'

Perhaps it's the aching melody, or maybe it's Seger's heartfelt delivery, but "We've Got Tonite" never quite sounds like a crass plea for a one-night stand.

Note that Seger's version of the song was spelled "We've Got Tonite," while a 1983 version with Kenny Rogers and Sheena Easton (Rogers' girlfriend at the time) spelled it "We Got Tonight."

Either way, it remains a classic today, much like taking more than 7 points in an NFL game, especially when our well-oiled machine tells us to...

BET ON any NFL dog of more than 7 points in a Sunday Night game.

That's it. Plain and simple. It's verified by the fact that underdogs of more than seven points, playing under the Sunday night lights, are 75-50-2 ATS since the inception of Sunday Night Football in 1987, including 44-23 ATS in non-division contests. When these same non-division dogs of more than 7 points enter off consecutive ATS losses, they zoom to 25-6-1 ATS.

Topping it off, these same 7.5-plus point underdogs are 15-0-1 ATS with an added subset.

You can find out what it is in these NFL Sunday night games by visiting the BETTING TOOLS section at PlaybookSports.com and clicking on the Black Book link.

In the meantime, keep your eyes on the prize and remember, sometimes, all you need is a little bit of faith and a good, live underdog to cash a winning ticket.

‘ We’ve got tonight, who needs tomorrow?

Let’s make it last, let’s find a way

*Turn out the light,

We’ve got tonight babe ,

*"I know it's late
I know you're weary

STILL THE SAME

And that's exactly what NFL teams do the season after winning their division the previous season – after finishing in last place in the division the prior year.

These “Worst-to-First” teams tend to struggle in their home games the following campaign. Their 75-99-4 ATS ledger in all games dating back to 2004, when the NFL switched to its current divisional alignments, confirms that.

By doing so, teams in this situation have gone 75-99-4 ATS, including 39-72 ATS, when dressing up as a favorite of -3 or more points.

In the end, these surprise upstarts find themselves exposed and are literally the same caliber team they've always been.

When these same favorites of -3 or more points face a division foe, they falter to 12-34 ATS

Last year was no different, as Jacksonville, Green Bay, and San Francisco combined to underwhelm. However, more often than not, teams join this fraternity of “worst-to-first” teams that are not capable of carrying the pressure of the added weight on their shoulders the next season.

With that, we can put ourselves into an advantageous situation if we were to...

BET AGAINST any NFL home favorite of -3 or more points who went from last place to first place in its division the previous season.

And I know you'll want to know the 0-15 ATS perfect tightener inside the game, and you can – when you go to the BETTING TOOLS section at PlaybookSports.com.

So, when this situation arises, you would be wise to take the advice of Bob Seger, who told us...

*“You always said, the cards would never do you wrong
The trick you said was never play the game too long
A gambler's share, the only risk that you would take
The only loss you could forsake
The only bluff you couldn't fake ,*

*"You always won, every time you placed a bet
You're still damn good,
no one's gotten to you yet
Every time they were sure they had you caught
You were quicker than they thought
You'd just turn your back and walk"*
